Valuation of the Teachers' Pension Scheme

Every four years, the Government Actuary's Department carries out a valuation of all unfunded public service pension schemes. The current valuation has determined that the employer contribution rate should increase to 23.68% of contributory pay with effect from 1 September 2019 (this includes the administration levy of 0.08%).

With regards to member benefits the initial valuation results highlighted that the value of benefits being accrued by members of the Career Average arrangement were below the level agreed in 2015.

However, this aspect of the valuation is on hold pending the outcome of a legal case in connection with transition protection provided to some members when the Career Average arrangement was introduced.
